MESSAGE FROM THE CHANCELLOR

Dear Graduands of the Class of 2024,

It is with immense pride and joy that I address you on this extraordinary day. Today, we gather not only to celebrate your academic accomplishments but to honor your resilience, determination, and spirit as true overcomers. This year's graduation theme, "The Overcomer: Transforming Challenges into Opportunities" could not be more fitting. Each of you has journeyed through trials, adapted to uncertainty, and emerged stronger, wiser, and ready to shape a brighter future.

Every graduation ceremony reflects our University's mission to advance and disseminate knowledge in service to society. But today is particularly special. It highlights how you, our graduating class, have transformed obstacles into stepping stones, demonstrating courage, creativity, and commitment to excellence.

The University of Kigali continues to be guided by its core values of academic rigor, research, innovation, and holistic student development. As graduates, you are now ambassadors of these ideals, equipped not just with qualifications, but with the mindset to lead, solve problems, and uplift your communities.

Our achievements as an institution are made possible through the steadfast leadership of the UoK Board of Promoters, the University Governing Body, and the Executive Organ, alongside the Academic Senate, the Senior Management Committee, our committed staff, and dedicated faculty. Their guidance and tireless effort have ensured you receive an education that is both transformative and empowering.

As we recognize graduates from the Graduate School, the School of Education, the School of Law, the School of Computing and Information Technology, and the School of Business Management and Economics, we celebrate the collective perseverance that has brought you to this milestone. You are prepared not only to enter the workforce or further studies, but to confront and convert the world's challenges into opportunities for growth and impact.

The Rwanda National Anthem and the University of Kigali Anthem today echo our unity, our heritage, and our hope for a better tomorrow. Let the values of courage, service, and lifelong learning continue to guide you. The University's Strategic Pillars ensures UoK remains a beacon of educational excellence, and you will always be a vital part of that legacy.

On behalf of the University of Kigali, I extend my congratulations. As you step forward into the next chapter, do so with confidence, integrity, and the boldness of an overcomer. Leave your mark, in Rwanda, across Africa, and around the world.

With warmest regards,

Dr. Carlos Fernando Sotz

ABOUT UNIVERSITY OF KIGALI

University of Kigali, one of the leading private higher institutions of learning in Rwanda, commenced operations in October 2013 after receiving a definitive license to operate as a Private University. It is a fully accredited and chartered University by the Government of the Republic of Rwanda. The University of Kigali has two campuses: the main campus, located at Prester House in Kacyiru, Gasabo District, near Kigali Heights, approximately 3 kilometres from Kigali City Centre, and another in Musanze District, Northern Province, housed in the Prestigious RSSB Building.

The University began operations with only 35 students in October 2013 and has experienced remarkable growth in enrollment, surpassing 9,000 students as of December 2024, representing over 33 countries across Africa, Asia, and Europe. This diversity reflects our commitment to internationalisation and world-class excellence. The growth is attributed to various factors, including a clear University vision, a well-articulated strategic plan, strategic partnerships, quality and market-driven programmes, and experienced faculty and staff members sourced regionally and globally. UoK has so far channeled to the market 9,465 (Undergraduates 5,778: Masters 1,687 & PGDE 2,000) graduates.

The uniqueness and added value of UoK lie in its status as a secular, locally founded, and supported University. It was founded by a team of promoters who conceived the noble idea of establishing a first-class Private University in Rwanda, offering market-driven, industry-relevant academic and professional programmes that meet the dynamic market demand, global competitiveness, and personal development goals. The promoters bring diverse skills, qualifications, and experiences, ranging from finance and accounting to monetary economics, urban planning, and extensive experiences in international corporations, development finance, government, policy making, business, and investments.

The University is managed by highly skilled professionals in both academic and non-academic departments. The University maintains and surpasses faculty profile that meets national qualification standards, with a strong doctoral-level representation across disciplines. The institution maintains a 60:40 ratio of academic to non-academic staff, emphasising academics as the core focus of UoK.

The University enjoys partnerships with reputable Universities and Institutions across Kenya, Ghana, India, South Africa, Cyprus, Germany, Italy, Canada, the UK, Poland, among others. Additionally, it facilitates several student exchange programmes with Universities globally, providing students with international exposure, enhancing employability skills, experiencing diverse studying methods, and building international networks.

Since its inception, the University has been committed to nurturing students to meet the dynamic needs of the labour market locally, regionally, and globally. UoK contributes to national development by producing skilled manpower across various fields and industries, thereby significantly contributing to the national economy. It offers a wide range of undergraduate, graduate, and professional programs through its six schools: School of Business Management and Economics, School of Computing and Information Technology, School of Education, School of Law, Graduate School, and School of Professional and Executive Programs.

UoK also operates three centres: The Centre for Economic Governance and Leadership (CEGL) offering a variety of short courses including leadership, public relations, corporate governance, human resource management, project management, ICDL, and Data Analytics; Centre for Equity & Inclusiveness which caters for the students with special needs, and Centre of Modern Languages.

It follows a trimester academic calendar that is co-educational and devoid of religious or socio-cultural preferences. Our curriculum utilizes innovative learning and teaching methods, delivered by a blend of academic and professionally qualified staff with expertise in their respective areas of specialisation.

THE STRATEGIC PILLARS 2025 - 2029 PIONEERING A SUSTAINABLE AND INNOVATIVE FUTURE

The University of Kigali is undergoing a bold transformation guided by six strategic pillars aimed at shaping a future-ready institution:

1. The Green University Ambition

Positions UoK as a leader in sustainability and digital innovation. Through environmentally friendly infrastructure, a circular economy approach, and green research aligned with Rwanda's development agenda, the University is committed to nurturing a secure and sustainable planet.

2. World-Class Innovative Education

3. Research and Innovation Excellence

Strengthens UoK's capacity to generate impactful knowledge and practical solutions to local and global challenges.

4. Inclusive Community Engagement

Focuses on outreach initiatives and industry partnerships to drive meaningful societal impact.

5. Strategic Internationalisation and Partnerships

Enhances global engagement through transdisciplinary collaborations, knowledge diplomacy, and academic mobility programmes, while expanding the international student base. This pillar positions UoK as a globally connected institution that attracts diverse talent and contributes meaningfully to global knowledge exchange.

6. Financial Sustainability, Staff Excellence, and Capacity Building

Underpins all efforts by promoting a high-performing and empowered workforce capable of delivering transformative education and research outcomes.

Together, these pillars chart UoK's journey toward becoming a world-class, green, and innovative university.

SCHOOL OF EDUCATION

The School of Education at the University of Kigali is a vibrant academic community committed to developing exceptional educators, researchers, and leaders for the evolving education sector. As one of the University's five academic schools, it brings together a diverse faculty and student body from multiple nationalities. With 12 faculty members, including three women in line with Rwanda's gender policy, the School offers rigorous programmes and research opportunities that prepare students for professional excellence. Its holistic, interdisciplinary approach fosters critical thinking, creativity, and an understanding of the cultural and social dimensions of education.

Since its inception, the School has reached important milestones. It admitted its first Postgraduate Diploma in Education (PGDE) cohort in July 2016, aligning with a national directive to train teachers without formal qualifications. In 2020, it launched the Bachelor of Early Childhood Development Education (BECDE) programme to address the growing need for qualified early childhood educators. The School also partners with the Centre for Modern Languages to strengthen English proficiency through foundational courses like Communication Skills, English for Specific Purposes, and General English.

A landmark in 2024 was the admission of four hearing-impaired students into the BECDE programme, in collaboration with the Centre for Equity and Inclusiveness. Their success underscores the University's commitment to inclusive education and equitable learning environments.

As we celebrate the 2024 graduating class, we commend our alumni for their service as educators, advocates, and leaders. The School of Education remains dedicated to advancing the University's mission through ethical leadership, lifelong learning, and impactful contributions to education in Rwanda and beyond.

SCHOOL OF LAW

The School of Law is one of the programmes of the University of Kigali, established in 2013. As the third-largest programme at the University of Kigali (UoK), with close to 1,200 undergraduate students, the rigour of our degree programme makes UoK Law graduates highly sought after, not only in Rwanda but also internationally.

The School currently offers a Bachelor of Laws (LLB) programme. In addition, three Master of Laws (LLM) programmes have been developed: LLM in International Commercial and Corporate Law, LLM in International Human Rights and Humanitarian Law, and LLM in Science and Technology Law. These programmes will be launched upon accreditation.

Our aim is to develop the next generation of skilled legal professionals who will contribute to the maintenance and strengthening of both public and private legal sectors. While our core objectives remain teaching and research, we are committed to maintaining a clear awareness of the social and global context in which our graduates will find their place.

The School's Law graduates are known for their strength not only in legal theory and its application, but also for their practical experience in law. This is a result of our community service opportunities for students, our superb moot court facility, and our local and international academic and professional networks, which ensure that students have access to the best opportunities to gain practical experience during their studies.
